GEN BUTLER'S ACCEPTANCE.—It will be recollected that our candidate for the Vice Presidency, Gen. Wm. O Butler, was in the city of Mexico, commanding the Army of the United States in that country, when he was so unanimously nominated by the Baltimore National Democratic Convention. At the earliest moment after his arrival, the letter informing him of his nomination was placed in his hands, and his reply immediately written and published. We present both to the reader .-nomination cordially, and plants himself on the platform of principles laid down at the Baltimore Convention. His letter is short, pointed, and explicit :-

That convention also adopted resolutions containing the principles upon which they believed the government ought to be administered, and which I have now the honor of transmitting to you. These resolutions constitute the true democratic platform. That they will meet your cordial assent, we feel well assured; nor are we the less satisfied that, should this high office be conferred upon you by your country, the princi-

I might therefore appeal to the past as the best and safest guarantee for my future political course. Some of these questions are, however, daily growing in importance; and as I cannot consent to win the good opinion of others by disguising my own, and as I design this communication to be final, it may be proper that I should be more explicit. I feel the more impelled to this course from the consideration that my action as a member of Congress may not be accessible to the people at large. With this object in view, I have examined carefully the proceedings of the convention by which I was nominated. I recognise in the resolutions passed by that body but the re-marking, and with an able hand, of the great lines of separation between the democratic and whig parties-lines that should be ever kept freshly before the people, and are so plainly laid down in the resolutions referred to, that "the wayfaring man, though a fool, cannot err therein." Those resolutions have been widely circulated, and are within the reach of all. I deem it sufficient to say that they meet my entire and unqualified ap-

Permit me, in conclusion, sir, to tender to you, and through you to the entire democracy represented by the body over which you so ably presided, my grateful thanks for the distinguished honor they have done me. With high regard, I remain truly your friend,

Consumption and Dyspepsia Cured! Having been cured of these distressing complaints, which have carried me to the verge of the grave, by Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, from 73 Beekman-street, I consider it my duty to make it publicly known, in the hope of benefitting others. That it saved my life I do not doubt—for I could not eat, and was daily declining, until I was a mere skeleton. I hope this will induce any one afflicted to try it, especially if they love lite and health, and want to be cured. It is of wonderful efficacy.
